CTA Digital presents a clever way of mixing a popular approach to communicating and applying it to the gaming world with the portable keypad for the Playstation 3 and Nintendo Wii. Use this device instead of trying to point and locate each letter one by one with a game controller. Enter your name and high score information at the same speed you would send a text message. Perfect for the email/messaging services provided by the the Nintendo Wii and PS3, you can use this keypad to chat and message your friends.
